Thank you from the Warden

When writing this thank you (in December 2022) I was not expecting that this one would be my last. But here we are – I am in my last month at Merton and getting ready to become your next Vice-Chancellor. I am confident that I am leaving the College in highly capable hands, as Professor Jennifer (Jenny) Payne is taking up the role of Acting Warden while the next warden is sought. Sad as I am to be leaving our beloved Merton, it does give me great pleasure to write this note of immense gratitude for your generous financial support. It means so much to me as your Warden, and also to our entire Fellowship, staff and students, to know we have such loyal and dedicated alumni. Your support in spirit and in advice has been equal in value, and for that I say a hearty thank you.

It has been a terrific year at Merton and for our newly complete Development Team. Our Development Director Mark Coote hit the ground running and has not stopped. He continues to take forward new ideas and ways of doing things and this brings a timely freshness to this area of the College. We are so fortunate to have secured him at Merton – and he too is fortunate to have joined our special community! Let me here acknowledge his efforts and those of Milos Martinov, as well as the entire team, for their hard work and professionalism.

At Merton this year we have had great success with teaching and learning, research, sports, music, drama and fun. The students continue to inspire me and their tutors, and our staff have really delivered for the College in getting us 'back on our feet'. The fellows continue to marvel the world with their discoveries, winning prizes and awards, almost on a weekly basis. Congratulations to them all. This term felt as close to Michaelmas term 2019 (my first) than any other, such is the feeling that we are now out of the pandemic. And what a lovely way to finish the term, dancing to the ABBA tribute band at the Merton Winter Ball!

Once again, our 2022 Leavers have continued the new tradition of leaving a legacy gift (match funded), and we look forward to welcoming them back in early 2023 to a thank you dinner. I am particularly thrilled that we have started to engage with these young Mertonians, far and wide, who have turned their attention to giving back to this wonderful college that gave us all so much. They are a new generation who are helping to take up the mantle from those who have supported the College over the years, to whom we are forever grateful. I too will continue to do my bit as a loyal alumna in the years to come.

I trust you will be encouraged and inspired by what you read in the coming pages. Thank you for being part of our incredible community and helping to preserve the future of the College. Thank you for the support you have given me personally, and I look forward to meeting you still in the years to come.

Professor Irene Tracey CBE FMedSci.,
Warden

The College finances

The College returned to largely normal operations in 2021-22 as College life recovered from the restrictions needed at the height of the pandemic. The College saw some continued impact on its financial position as the conference business recovered from the much-reduced levels during the height of the pandemic. The summer saw conference activity return to pre-COVID levels. The need for additional expenditure relating to the pandemic came to an end in the year. For example, the marquee used to facilitate socially distanced dining was taken down in March 2022.

Total income for the year was £15.1 million, nearly £1.3m higher than the preceding year due to recovery in residential income, the trading income received from conferences and an increase in legacies and donations. Total expenditures for the year were a little over £18.9m. This figure includes the impact of the change in provisions associated with the pension schemes, particularly USS, as well as costs incurred to continue a number of projects to develop land on the College's estate.

Despite the turmoil in the financial markets, the College's endowment performed well in 2021-22. Our holdings in the public equity markets were marginally up on the year despite declines from the market peak reached in November. Merton private equity holdings performed particularly well with strong gains in a number of the funds in which the College has invested over the past few years. The College also benefitted from realised proceeds from the sale of land for development. Lastly, the value of a number of commercial properties which had been affected by the pandemic recovered in the year. Overall, the College's endowment saw net gains of nearly £28m in the course of the year, bringing the total value of our endowed funds to just over £337m. This figure includes donations and legacies generously provided by our alumni and friends over many years.

Merton College Benefactions Committee

2022 Report to donors

The Committee, which was formed in July 2012, presents its report to the College's benefactors for the financial year to 31st July 2022. The Committee comprises Tim Morrison (1972) (Chair), William Watson (1980) and Caroline Doan (1997). Meetings are attended by the Finance Bursar and the Development Director.

In the past year, we have received information from the Warden about the College's strategic direction and the consequential current spending priorities. We have obtained certain information relating to the College's control of and accounting for the receipt, investment and disbursement of benefactions (both restricted and unrestricted) and have discussed these matters with the Finance Bursar, the Development Director, the College Accountant and the external auditors. Because Merton College Charitable Corporation (MC3), which is incorporated in the USA, is a charity independent of the College, we have performed no work in respect of benefactions received by MC3 until they have been transferred by MC3 to the College. We have also reviewed, on a sample basis, a number of material benefactions received by the College (both restricted and unrestricted) to satisfy ourselves that, in each case selected, the relevant funds have been properly recorded to enable disbursements to be made in accordance with the donor's wishes.

On the basis of the work we have performed, we confirm that nothing has come to our attention which casts doubt on the way in which the receipt, investment and disbursement of benefactions have been controlled and accounted for by the College during the year ended 31st July 2022.

Signed on behalf of the Benefactions Committee by

Tim Morrison (Chair), 4th October 2022

Thank you from the Development Director

It gives me particular pleasure to bring you this latest edition of the Merton College Annual Report, reflecting on the activities of the Development Office over the last financial year, 1 August 2021 to 31 July 2022.

In terms of fundraising, we have had a remarkable year, with levels of support breaking new recent records and with a marked increase in alumni participation. Whilst the scale of the two-year pandemic brought us many challenges, our 'bounce back' has been energetic and positive, evidenced by the support and goodwill from so many of our alumni worldwide.

These pages distil some of the year's highlights and our dedicated 'rolls of honour' speak to the many hundreds of Mertonians who have given back to the College through philanthropy, not just within the last 12 months but, in many cases, through a lifetime of giving.

It has been an additional joy engaging with alumni and friends through a renewed series of Merton events in Oxford and London and also further afield, in Edinburgh, Bath, the United States – both East and West Coasts – and more recently in Manchester and Zurich. We look forward to seeing many more of you as we welcome alumni back to College or as we travel through the regions as part of a Merton 'roadshow' programme.

When you come to read this, we will have warmly welcomed our new Acting Warden, Professor Jennifer (Jenny) Payne, whom many of you will already know. We will also have said our fondest farewell, and with instinctive pride, to Professor Irene Tracey, who will be firmly at the helm of the University as Vice-Chancellor – but once a Mertonian, always a Mertonian.

With warmest wishes,

Your gifts at work

In the financial year 1 August 2021 to 31 July 2022 the College secured £4,056,586 (gross) in new gifts and pledges* (2020-2021: £3,732,043), with a total of £3,164,149 received in cash (2020-21: £3,050,136). This represents a five-year high in voluntary income, surpassing last year's results which had been the strongest fundraising year for the College since the 750th anniversary celebrations.

Notably, the College benefitted from the University's Graduate Endowment Matched Scholarship scheme whereby successful College bids to endow brand new graduate scholarships receive one-third of the scholarship funding from the University. Merton was able to raise sufficient donations to create not one, but two newly-endowed graduate scholarships; one funded in its entirety by Sir Howard Stringer (1961, Honorary Fellow) and the other comprising donations from a syndicate of Mertonian donors led by John Booth (1976, Wyliot Fellow).

The College has received philanthropic support for a myriad of activities, demonstrating the richness and diversity of an academic community emerging from the depredations of a two-year pandemic. The News in brief section within this Annual Report highlights a number of significant achievements, all made possible through alumni support. Additional areas which deserve recognition include the Telethon campaigns, whose combined totals of almost £250,000 make this one of the best years in recent memory. A number of other appeals have included the Reach Scholarship (successfully funded, at £88,600), Black Academic Futures Scholarship (two full years of the three-year scholarship funded, with £75,000+) and significant progress with two pay-as-you-go scholarships in Chemistry and Archaeology (£63,000 for each and both now complete).

Support for the Merton College Choir goes from strength to strength. The introduction of live stream capacity has brought increased audience participation from around the world and choir tours and new recordings have been generously sponsored by Reed Rubin (1957, Bodley Fellow) and the Reed Foundation, for which the College is hugely appreciative.

* £580k of new funds raised includes a central University match funded element which will not be accredited as 'cash received' in College accounts.

17% of the Merton community donated in the 2021-22 financial year, compared to 15.3% the previous year

The College had 1,196 donors, compared to 1,133 the previous year

2022 Leavers' Gift

We were delighted that 95% of Merton's undergraduate 2022 leavers contributed £12.64 each towards student support and welfare as part of a Leavers' Gift. The Leavers' Gift was matched by Mustafa Abbas (1990). Here, he and Kentaro Machida (2019), a 2022 leaver, explain why they donated.

Some of my fondest memories are from those old college days at Merton. Not only did Merton offer all manner of good things, it was also a home away from home. It was an extraordinary time spent with extraordinary people.

I reflect often on a question posed by the late John Lucas, my philosophy tutor: how are you treating the world?

Merton College played a significant part in my personal and professional development and I trust that it did for you as well. The splendid facilities, outstanding tutorials and delicious food are just a hint of what was on offer. It was my privilege then to match the Leavers' Gifts this year when I was approached by our devoted Development Office. Hopefully for the current Leaver, as for me, the relationship with Merton will be an enduring one.

It has been wonderful to have had Professor Irene Tracey serve as our Warden, and I wish her the very best in her new position as Vice-Chancellor of Oxford University.

I invite you to give generously so that others can enjoy the fantastic opportunities available at Merton.

When offered the opportunity to give £12.64 towards student support and welfare at Merton upon the completion of my own studies there, I was delighted to be able to contribute. Over the course of the pandemic, Merton became a home away from home for many of us and I think we all came to rely on some form of support from the college welfare team. From home deliveries of Valentine's Day brownies and Merton flower bulbs to plant in our own garden spaces, to more specific one-on-one support for those who needed it, the College Welfare team has always gone above and beyond to spread cheer and generally improve our time at university. During the more 'normal' terms, events such as G+Ds trips in Welfare Week or weekly welfare teas (especially with doughnuts!) were highlights for many of us and I truly believe that the constantly welcoming and approachable nature of Simon Jones, Jenny Barrett, and the rest of the team is unrivalled at Merton.

The Leavers' Gift was a great way to say thank you and we are extremely grateful to Mustafa Abbas for matching all of our donations so that Merton's Welfare Team can continue to help students at Merton.

News in brief

Grouping together for Graduate Scholarships

In 2021-22, two endowed Graduate Scholarships were established at Merton. These scholarships were made possible by a number of Mertonians coming together to raise significant funds, thereby helping the College successfully bid for match funding from the University. A total of £1.74 million was raised for the scholarships, including £580,000 in matching support. These scholarships can fully fund two students at any one time, providing transformational opportunities in perpetuity.

One scholarship was generously established by Howard Stringer (1961, Honorary Fellow) and Jennifer Stringer, while the other was set up by a syndicate of Mertonians led by John Booth (1976, Wyliot Fellow). The syndicate included: Mike Below (1981), Richard Burns (1964), Jo (1990) and Richard Cumbley (1991), Charles Manby (1974, Wyliot Fellow), the MC3 Trustees, Ben Perry (1992), David Stevens (1980), Matthew Tobin (1991) and two anonymous donors. We are enormously grateful for everyone's support.

The College is committed to providing more graduate scholarships, which help us attract brilliant students from all backgrounds. Separate to the above endowments, an annually-funded scholarship in Mathematical Physics was renewed by Peter Palmer (1968), in memory of his father Frank Palmer (1941). Syndicates of Mertonians also progressed towards completing similar scholarships in Chemistry and Archaeology; a Ukrainian refugee scholarship (see below) and the Black Academic Futures scholarship, which tackles under-representation of Black British graduates at Oxford.

It is heartening to see a group of donors come forward for this appeal, and further progress has been made in the new financial year. At the time of writing, the Chemistry and Ukrainian scholarships have been completed.

Mertonians raise urgent support for Ukrainian scholars

The past year was sadly marked by the devastating conflict in Ukraine. As part of its response to the war, the College has committed to help students and academics in need. In July 2022, we therefore launched a campaign to fund a scholarship for a Ukrainian refugee Master's student and support a Ukrainian academic fellow in cooperation with CARA (the Council for At-Risk Academics).

In under three months, Mertonians raised £82,500 to fund these two important initiatives. We would like to extend particular thanks for their generosity to Harry Bush (1971), Chip (1966) and Joan Filson and Richard Harvey (1956). The fundraising was completed in time for Michaelmas term, when we welcomed Master's student Taisiia Sazonova and fellow Nadiya Ivanenko.

Taisiia holds a degree in Medicine from Kharkiv Karazin National University, and when the war began, she was a resident doctor and planning to start a PhD. She writes: "I am from one of the most dangerous districts of Kharkiv:

Saltivka. For more than a month I lived under constant shelling and bombardment, and every day brought death, destruction, hunger and cold. I'm so grateful to have been given this opportunity to study at Oxford for an MSc in Genomic Medicine, through which I will obtain critically important skills and knowledge."

Nadiya is from Kropyvnytskyi, a city about 300km south of Kyiv. Before the war, she was a Professor at the Central Ukrainian State University, teaching English as a Foreign Language. She writes: "Everything changed on 24th February when my daughter and I were woken up by awful whooshing sounds of military aircraft. Normal life was finished. The days were becoming very scary, and the nights even more so. Being in Oxford has enabled us to settle into a new life. I would like to express my deepest thanks to all the donors who made my placement at Oxford – as a Research Fellow in Citizenship Education – possible."

You can read Taisiia's and Nadiya's stories in full on the College website: www.merton.ox.ac.uk/news/ukrainian-scholars-supported-merton. Looking ahead, we aim to continue our Ukrainian support by funding a scholarship for a refugee DPhil student.

The race to preserve our medieval stained glass

The appeal, launched in late 2021, to preserve the medieval stained glass of the ancient Upper (Mob) Library has caught the imagination of Mertonians and friends alike, as we pass the half-way mark in our £427,000 quest to fund the entire enterprise via donations. Sponsors of the windows will be acknowledged within a 'Scroll of Honour', to be kept in the Library, and we invite alumni to consider helping the College to complete the project in the second and final fundraising phase this year.

Dr Julia Walworth, Fellow Librarian, reports on the need within this unique space and the progress to date:

"The surviving medieval windows in the Upper Library, installed in the 1390s, are a rare example of stained glass made expressly for a library setting. Both functional and decorative, the windows incorporate emblems representative of the College and its links with royal patrons. Other library windows contain glass ranging in date from the 15th to the early 20th centuries, including fragments that reveal some of the themes of the lost transept windows of the chapel. From the simple lancets to the stunning Great Oriel Window, the Upper Library windows are remarkable testament to Merton's long history.

"In 2015, a survey on the windows revealed that they were suffering from corrosion and gradual loss of paint due to minute amounts of condensation forming on the interior surface of the glass. A pilot project in 2017-18 demonstrated that a ventilated protective glazing system would halt this damaging process, and the College has engaged experienced stained-glass specialists, York Glaziers Trust, to undertake a phased project to clean, conserve, and install ventilated external secondary glazing on all of the Upper Library windows. The secondary glazing also prevents the transmission of UV radiation, thus protecting the historical book bindings and other light-sensitive objects, such as the hand-coloured Senex globes, from further damage by ultraviolet light.

"Now that the project is underway it is exciting to see the oldest windows conserved and re-installed with the new secondary glazing and to know that these historic treasures are protected for the future. It is thanks to the collective efforts of Mertonians that the library's glorious windows are being preserved for future generations to admire and enjoy."

Meadows re-wilding target achieved

In 2021 we launched a ten-year appeal to support the restoration of Merton's meadows. This long-term project intends to restore our meadows to create a flower-rich, biodiverse meadowland (important for sequestering carbon) which will form part of a developing floodplain meadow corridor along the Thames and Cherwell rivers.

We are enormously grateful to all our donors who supported this project, and in particular the principal donor Mike Kilroy (1985), thereby securing the next ten years of important activity.

Here is a summary of activity on this project so far:

In June 2022, green hay from a more than 1000-year-old biodiverse meadow was spread over the meadows to transfer seeds. In late July, the meadows were cut and baled by local farmer Andrew Farrant, and the baled hay fed to cows at his farm where, after the drought of the summer, there was much need. Meadow hay is more nutritious than hay from rye grass alone due to the various species within it taking in different minerals and certain species, such as Meadowsweet (Filipendula ulmaria), having anti-inflammatory, antiseptic and astringent properties.

In October 2022, sheep from a local farm were brought to graze on the meadows for three weeks (see right, the sheep on Great Meadow with St Catherine's College in the background). Grazing forms part of the cycle of meadow management, enabling seedlings in springtime to germinate in sunlight without being swamped by tall grasses. This part of the project was arranged through Catriona Bass of the Thames Valley Wildflower Meadow Restoration Project and through networking with local farmers, and will be repeated next year.

As November came around, staff and students joined other volunteers from local groups to help with planting small potted wildflowers which, when planted as more mature, have a better chance of establishing themselves in the meadow. The day was a great success, with over 500 wildflower plants planted.

Merton's Head Gardener Lucille Savin explains:

"Today's planting allows slower-growing plants to establish themselves. Some, such as the Great burnet (Sanguisorba officinalis), can live up to 150 years. The plants are of different species, some of which thrive in drier and others in wetter conditions. This means that the meadows will support wildlife across all weather conditions, thus creating sustainable biodiversity. My team and I are so grateful to Mertonians for their extraordinary and generous support for this project."

Boat Club makes a splash

The quest to raise priority funds for a new boat for the Women's eight was realised by the summer.

With the generous support of many alumni the target of £50,000 was reached, with particular generosity from

Richard Harvey (1956), Robin Forrest (1989) and Irene Tracey (1985) (pictured third from left). We can now put out to retirement the 20-year-old former Men's lightweight shell that had been the stand-in for the women's crew!

As we go to press the new shell has been ordered and is anticipated to make its debut on the Isis during Torpids in Hilary Term.

A unanimous decision by the Boat Club Committee to name the new boat the Irene Tracey, in recognition of the Warden's effervescent support of what we do on the river, was carried, and we are looking forward to her attending the formal boat-naming ceremony at the end of Eights Week on Saturday 27 May 2023.

The Founder's Society

During the 2021-22 financial year, we were delighted to welcome 23 new members to the Founder's Society, the College's dedicated circle for legators. Membership is extended to those who kindly inform us of their intention to remember Merton in their Will. The Founder's Society meets regularly for special lunches in College, and we are pleased to announce that the next of these will be held on Sunday 30 April 2023.

Legacy donations are critical for sustaining and enhancing Merton's financial foundations. The annual 'take' from our endowment is only sufficient to cover around half of the College's running costs. We therefore remain reliant on external sources of funding to finance our teaching, support for students and maintenance of our ancient buildings. There is much potential for legacy gifts to make a difference.

The Founder's Society was named in honour of our founder, Walter de Merton. The College was born from his philanthropy, and the gift he left in his Will laid foundations for the future.

All the legators named in these pages are following in Walter's noble footsteps. We are very grateful to them for helping to secure the College for future generations.

More than 180 Mertonians and friends, including twenty-three who choose to remain anonymous, have kindly informed the College of their intentions in this respect and have joined the Founder's Society.

The College remembers the generosity of the following Mertonians and friends from whose estates we received legacy gifts during the 2021-22 financial year, spanning from 1 August 2021 to 31 July 2022: Mr C B Carr MBE (1943), Mr G F Tusa (1953), Mr P S Morrish.

If you have not done so already, please consider including Merton in your estate planning. Legacy gifts make a tremendous difference for future generations at the College and could also reduce the tax burden on your family. Should you have any questions, please email development@merton.ox.ac.uk or call +44(0)1865 286314.

Thank you

We would like to express our considerable thanks to all those who support Merton. Your donations have a huge impact on every area of College life – from safeguarding tutorial teaching to providing essential support for students and preserving our incomparable historic buildings.

The Warden, Fellows and students of Merton are delighted to recognise the College's supporters in the following pages. The key below provides a guide to the abbreviations and symbols used.

Recognising significant generosity to Merton

Merton's Hall is adorned with a variety of heraldic shields representing alumni and generous benefactors, from our founder Walter De Merton to more recent donors such as Basil Blackwell (1907) and Julia De Lacy Mann, our first female Honorary Fellow.

In 2018, new shields were installed in Hall representing Sir Howard Stringer (1961, Honorary Fellow), Francis Finlay (1962, Honorary Fellow), John Booth (1976, Wyliot Fellow) and Charles Manby (1976, Wyliot Fellow), in recognition of their exceptional generosity. Pictures of their shields are displayed below.

We are enormously grateful to Howard, Francis, John and Charles, whose philanthropy has made a powerful impact on College life. They have also warmly encouraged many other alumni and friends to make contributions, which together have made a great difference to our students and academics.

We hope to install more coats of arms representing generous benefactors within Merton's Hall. For more information, please contact the Development Office at development@merton.ox.ac.uk or by calling +44(0)1865 286314.

Donors recognised by the University

The Chancellor's Court of Benefactors and the Vice-Chancellor's Circle recognise individuals, foundations and organisations who have provided significant support to the collegiate University. We are very grateful to the following Mertonians and friends who have been recognised in this way for their generosity.

The information opposite is correct as of 1 December 2022. New members since 1 January 2022 are highlighted in orange.
